Full-Time Faculty – Ambulatory Care / Community Pharmacy Practice

Marshall B. Ketchum University, a private not-for-profit health care professions university, is currently seeking a full-time faculty member for its new College of Pharmacy. The College is dedicated to excellence in education, service to the community, and research/scholarship. Working together with an outstanding leadership team, the faculty member will realize the College’s goal of reimagining the future of health care with an emphasis on advanced pharmacy practice skills, clinical medicine, and interprofessional education.

JOB SUMMARY
Reporting directly to the Department Chair of Pharmacy Practice, the faculty member is expected to teach in the Doctor of Pharmacy program, mentor students, support College research initiatives, and participate in the service activities of the department, College, and University. Teaching expectations include course coordination and instruction in areas relevant to community/outpatient pharmacy practice with an emphasis on patient assessment, clinical skills performance, medication therapy management, and interprofessional education. Successful candidates must demonstrate the ability to clearly articulate ideas, achieve shared goals, and possess strong interpersonal skills. Candidates with a Doctor of Pharmacy degree who also possess Physician Assistant certification and/or those with experience in course design, instruction, and evaluation are strongly encouraged to apply.

QUALIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

- Current California Registered Pharmacist Licensure (or must be eligible for and complete licensure within one year of hire).
- Completion of an accredited residency program, or have equivalent experience in pharmaceutical care and services relevant to ambulatory care, primary care, or community pharmacy practice.
- Professional certification(s) relevant to ambulatory care, primary care, community pharmacy practice, or pharmacotherapy.
- Strong patient assessment skills.
• Documented experience and accomplishments in teaching, professional practice, and scholarship at a level appropriate for appointment as an Assistant or Associate Professor.
• High degree of knowledge of current professional trends in pharmacy as related to clinical care and practice management.
• Excellent written and verbal communication skills.
• Ability to read, analyze and interpret scientific literature and academic publications.
• Demonstration of ethical conduct, professionalism, interpersonal and leadership skills, and management abilities.

EDUCATION AND EXPERIENCE

Doctor of Pharmacy (Pharm.D.) degree is required.

ABOUT THE ORGANIZATION

We are Marshall B. Ketchum University, an independent, private, non-profit, accredited educational institution. Located in Fullerton, California (known as the education city) Marshall B. Ketchum University is a comprehensive health care university, built upon a legacy of over 110 years of academic excellence and clinical education.

Created as the Southern California College of Optometry, and expanded to offer a range of interprofessional programs and health care initiatives, including a School of Physician Assistant Studies, the University is now moving forward with plans for a College of Pharmacy. This is an exciting time for health care, for medical innovation and education, and for our community. We believe the future is bright, and look forward to advancing it together.

The founder of the Southern California College of Optometry, Marshall B. Ketchum, was a medical doctor, pharmacist, and passionate advocate for medical education. The mission of Marshall B.
