

Marshall B.
KETCHUM UNIVERSITY
Southern California College of Optometry

Full-time Tenure Track Optometry Faculty Positions

The Southern California College of Optometry at Marshall B. Ketchum University (MBKU) is seeking outstanding individuals who can contribute to our strong teaching, clinical, and research programs. A diverse range of opportunities exist within our Doctor of Optometry and MS in Vision Science programs for individuals with a strong desire to educate the next generation of clinicians/scientists in an inter-professional setting, to collaborate and serve with respected colleagues, and to broaden the College's abilities and reputation.

Tenure-track/tenured positions are open for promising assistant, associate, or full professors who have expertise in one or more of the following areas: vision science, primary care/ocular disease, cornea and contact lenses, pediatric optometry, binocular vision, vision therapy, and low vision. Successful applicants will join a diverse and dynamic faculty who are committed to the highest standards of clinical training and research as well as service to the profession and the community.

RESPONSIBILITIES

Ideally, candidates would be expected to teach in the Doctor of Optometry program, mentor students, support College research initiatives, and participate in service activities at the College, the University, and on a national level. A record of educational and scholarly activity appropriate for level of experience in optometry and vision science is expected.

QUALIFICATION

Candidates should preferably have a Doctor of Optometry degree and be eligible for a California optometry license. Preference may be given to applicants with additional advanced degrees, residency/fellowship training, and/or advanced professional development.

Salary and faculty rank will be commensurate with the candidate's qualifications. Review of applications will continue until positions are filled or the search is closed.

ABOUT MBKU

MBKU is a private, non-profit, accredited educational institution, located in Fullerton, California. MBKU is a comprehensive health care university, built upon a legacy of over 110 years of academic excellence and clinical education.

The founder of the Southern California College of Optometry, Marshall B. Ketchum, was a medical doctor, pharmacist, and passionate advocate for medical education. The mission of MBKU is to educate caring, inspired health care professionals who are prepared to deliver collaborative, patient- centric health care in an inter-professional environment.

Created as the Southern California College of Optometry, and expanded to offer a range of inter- professional programs and health care initiatives, MBKU also has a School of Physician Assistant Studies and a College of Pharmacy. This is an exciting time for health care, for medical innovation and education, and for our community. We believe the future is bright, and look forward to advancing it together.

HOW TO APPLY

For more information about employment at MBKU visit: <http://www.ketchum.edu/about/employment>

Candidates should submit a comprehensive curriculum vitae, a cover letter incorporating a statement of professional interests, and a list of potential references to Caryn Ainley (cainley@ketchum.edu), Assistant to the Dean of Optometry. Questions/inquiries may be directed to Dr. Jason Ng (jng@ketchum.edu), Chair of the Faculty Search Committee.

Marshall B. Ketchum University is an equal opportunity employer; requirements are subject to possible modification to reasonably accommodate individuals with disabilities.