DISABILITY DEFINED

Disabilities include physical or mental impairments that limit one or more major life activities. Some examples include but are not limited to:

- Asthma
- Dyslexia
- Blindness or other visual impairments
- Cancer
- Learning/reading disabilities
- Depression
- Diabetes
- ADHD
- Hearing or speech impairments
- Chronic medical conditions
- PTSD

Certain temporary, non-chronic impairments of short duration with limited or no residual effects are not disabilities (e.g., the common cold or the flu).

Although formal accommodations may not be permitted for temporary conditions, the University will attempt to support students with short-term needs.

DISABILITY ACCOMMODATIONS

Adjustments are determined on an individual basis to best accommodate the specific needs of each student with one or more disabilities. These decisions are made with careful consideration based on the student's request, the documentation provided, and the program-specific technical standards and requirements. There is no formula for accommodations. Reasonable accommodations granted will be consistent with recognized standards within the field and based on the professional judgment of the Disability Services Coordinators working in conjunction with the student's Dean/Director.

All students are encouraged to be their own best advocate. Should a student experience any difficulty or perceive any bias, please contact Student Disability Services right away.

Students may access the policy, Request Form and Verification Form on the Student tab of the My.Ketchum.edu portal.
